Phil Trice 2/11/70 Pulls Out of Race for D.A.

District Attorney Jim Garrison has been assured of another term in office. His lone opponent for reelection, Republican Phil Trice, has withdrawn from the race.

Trice, reached by phone this morning, refused comment. He said he would make an announcement next week.

Trice's withdrawal leaves only four Republicans to oppose a Democratic slate in the April 7 general election. Ben C. Toledano will face mayor candidate Moon Landrieu; Warren P. Balovich will oppose Democratic nominee for councilman for District A Pete Beer, Dr. J. Brown Larose Jr. will face Dr. Carl H. Rabin for coroner and James R. Satterfield will oppose Theodore J. Marchand for state representative in District 26.
